Emerald opens the door to the best ideas in the world of research and we want to make sure everyone benefits from the content we publish.

This is why we are recruiting a special team of Student Ambassadors to ensure their peers receive the knowledge, support and direction to realise their academic ambitions.

Emerald Student Ambassadors will:

- Encourage the use of the Emerald website and database; offer training and be there to simplify the process from the start
- Conduct research into how students use Emeralds content and products and ensure we remain useful and relevant
- Build a locally-responsive presence and strengthen relationships with academics and students

What is the incentive for the student ambassadors?
